

SATURDAY EVENING, SEPT. 24, 1898.

THE Northern lumber and fish interests which are protected by prohibitory duties will probably have sufficient influence with the American members of the Canadian commission to render the great expense of that commission just so much money thrown away, as the Canadians want trade reciprocity, not the continuance of re- member of the investigating commisstrictions upon trade. That there should not be free trade with Canada, as there is between the States, cannot well be told, as the American trade with that country equals that with all the West Indies and Central and South America

MAJOR GENERAL Miles, the commander-in-chief of the U. S. Army, announces that his book on Military Europe will be ready for publication at an early day. It was announced a short time after General Fitzhugh Lee's return from Cuba that his book on the condition of that island would soon be printed, but nothing has been heard of it since. It is to be hoped, for his own sake, that his opinions of Captain General Blanco, as reported in a recent newspaper interview, may not be reiterated in the book when it shall be published.

Southern people, like all others, are human, therefore representatives from all the plains, valleys, and mountains of their country flocked to Richmond yesterday, bearing the choicest flowers of their section to lay upon the bier of the daughter of the only President of their short lived but glorious Confederacy, the memories of which will never be obliterated from their minds, for the 'stars never rise but they feel the bright eyes, and the moon never beams without bringing them dreams, of their "storm cradled nation that fell."

THE Kansas soldiers who have been ordered to the Philippine Islands will be allowed to vote for members of the next Congress from their State, not in this country, however, but on ship board, in the Pacific ocean. If the complexion of the next House of Representative can be decided by the seven members from Kansas, nothing will be easier than to have a telegraphic dispatch to that effect awaiting the arrival of the ship carrying the soldiers of that State, at Manila, and to have the returns prepared accordingly.

THE LIBEL suit against a Baltimore newspaper for $20,000 damages has been abandoned, as the plaintiff became convinced that the longer it was continued the more it would cost him. Istelligent jurors believe that most of such suits are brought by impecunious lawyers, whose fees are contingent, and also that reputation newspapers never print anything except upon what they believe is reliable authority, and hasten to correct errors as soon as discovered

AND now even the brotherhood of locomotive firemen have turned against Mr. Eugene Debs and failed to give him an office with a salary. Mr. Debs thought full surely his greatness was a ripening when he led the murderous strikers in Chicago, but a chilling frost nipped his root when in prison, and then he fell, but not as a blessed martyr.

TWELVE hundred laborers struck at Bridgeport, Ohio, yesterday, and this, too, at the commencement of winter, and though they had what, but for their strike, would have been permanent employment. This certainly does not indicate that the alleged revival of industry has yet reached Mr. Hanna's own State.

NEW ENGLAND evidently has a strong "pull" upon the Navy Department, as the school of naval architecture in the government academy at Annapolis has been abolished and its students sent to a civil school in Boston. Secretary Long is certainly a believer in that part of the bible which teaches that men must provide for their own households first.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT .- The careless

handling of a pistol in the hands of Jack Collins, a boy of thirteen, at Glenbrook, Fairfax county, yesterday, may result in the loss of an eye or even the life of Jesse Stuart, fourteen years old, son of William Stuart, a store-keeper at Glenbrook. Young Stuart was taken to the Emergency Hospital in Washington yesterday afternoon by his father and the surgeons found that a small pistol bullet had penetrated the boy's head, just under his left eyebrow. He was resting well last night and the doctors were hopeful that the injury would not prove serious. The Collins boy and Jesse Stuart are neighbors and vesterday morning, Jack Collins ran into the Stuart house for Jesse. Collins had found a pistol and wanted to show it to Jesse. The latter took the small revolver and, after examing it, handed it back to Collins. The latter took it in his hand and was examining the lock when it was discharged, the ball entered Stuart's head above the eye. The father returned to Glenbrook last night after bying assured that his boy was in no immediate danger and would be well cared for.

Five hours later when all had been given up as lost 27 of them reappeared, having escaped by a frenzied rush through circuitous under ground passages to a back opening four miles from the main shaft. Others followed later, leaving but eight dead. Nearly all who escaped are injure i or burned. There were 140 men in the mine at the time of the explosion, work having begun for the day a short time previously.

EXECUTION OF A MURDERER.-James Terrell, colored, was hanged in the yard of the jail of Charlottesville yesterday morning for the murder of his motherin-law, Malinda Brown, on the 23d day of May near Earlysville, in Albermarle county. His wife had left him and there was a bad feeling between him and his victim. Terrell did not show the least sign of nervousnes. He listened quietly to the prayer of Rev. Henry Quarles, a colored preacher, and when asked if he desired to say anything expressed in a single sentence his convict-ion that he had a home to go to and and action of the heart ceased in fourteen minutes. A few minutes before he left his cell for the scaffold the con demned man declared that he had never been arrested before he had gotten into this trouble, and that his present predicament was due solely to an uncontrollable temper. Terrell had never shown any strong desire to escape the consequences of his act. On the contrary, he had expressed the wish that his execution might be hastened, as he was willing to die for having killed "the right person."

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION .- Madame Paulmier, wife of M. Charles Ernest Paulmier, member of the French Chamber of Deputies, entered the office of La Lanterne in Paris yesterday and asked to see M. Millerand. M. Millerand was absent, and M. Oilivier stepped forward to receive the lady, who, without waiting for any explanation whipped out a revolver and fired twice. M. Ollivier fell to the floor wounded. He was taken to a hospital. Madame Paulmier was taken into custody and when questioned, coolly announced: "I wished to kill M. Millerand." She explained that La Laterne had slandered herself and her husband be cause her husband had written a letter to General Chanoine, the Minister of War, with reference to putting a stop to the attacks upon the army provoked by the Dreytus affair.

Following them came the guard of bonor, which had charge of the casket during the day, and next came the casket. Mrs. Davis followed close behind the casket, leaning on the arm of Col. Archer Anderson. She walked with bowed head and very feebly, leaning heavily on her cane. Mrs. Hayes and other relatives and near friends followed, and immediately behind came about 300 veterans. The flower-and-flag-cov ered casket was placed on the pedes tals in front of the chancel, and Mrs. Davis and her party took seats. Upon being deposited, the casket was surrounded by floral tributes from Georgia, Virginia, South Carolina and other States. At its head was a large battle flag of immortelles, received from Alexandria, which rested upon the stand draped in black silk.

The services were conducted by Rev Drs. Carmichael and Hoge.

The public was not admitted to the probable that he will recommend the church, but the big building was more creation of a minister for the colonies. than filled by the authorized Confeder ate delegations from New York to Tex as, and a vast throng filled the streets. The procession was two hours in forming, and extended practically from the church to Hollywood, more than two miles away. The flags of the city were at half mast, and during the procession every church bell in the city was tolled. The military portion of the procession was imposing, and was led by the Second Virginia regiment, just home from Jacksonville. Then came a long line of Confederate camps and Sons of Veterans, the bands playing funeral dirges.

The hearse was drawn by four snow white ponies, with bridle attendants, and in the rear, following as a special guard of honor, marched a hu veterans from the Confederate Soldiers Home. The procession closed with a long and winding double row of car Wellsburg, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Miss Eudora Guilford, the daughter of Dr. Nancy Guilford, whose name has been connected with the Bridgeport murder an invitation to deliver an address at the dedication of the Confederate solwoman expressed much surprise that she should be connected with the case. BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 24.-Eudora Guilford, who was arrested last night in connection with the Yellow Mill pond crime, was brought here this morning. She is held on the charge of attempting to bring about an abortion on the body of Emma Gill. Dr. Nancy Guilford, whose present whereabouts are a mystery to the police here, is the only other person wanted. Last even-ing Harry Oxley was arrested on the charge of complicity in the crime. The evidence against him is conclusive. It shows that he paid at different times nearly $200 to Dr. Nancy Guilford for services performed. Rosa Drayton and her daughter, Claribel, colored, are also under arrest. These women were employed by Mrs. Guilford here. They were arrested on the strength of a confession of partial guilt made by Oxley, which implicates Mrs. Guilford to the extent of attempting to bring about an abortion on the body of Emma Gill. It is believed that the abortion and subsequent cutting of the body were perpetrated right in the heart of this city, and not in Stratford. In the police court here to-day Harry Guilford and Walter C. Foster were arraigned on the charge of attempting to bring about an abortion on the body of Emma Gill. A nolle pros was recommended in the case of Foster and the prisoner was at once released Charles A. This is regarded as the most important step in the direction of the ettlement of the Cretan question that has been taken in two years. Nevertheless, it remains to be seen whether the four powers will agree on the measure to be adopted in the event of the refusal of the Sultan, to whom will be offered as a reward for compliance the suzerainty of the island and the organization of the gendarmerie under European command.
